Disregard the translation opposite the next two half words and read the ten figures to the left of these two half words in the following manner: The first two figures will designate the first number of inches required, the third figure will designate the terminal figure for the second number of required inches (thus: 17/18), the next three figures will designate the number of yards required in the same manner as inches (thus: 16/17), the last four figures will designate the required number of ounces by using three figures for first required number of ounces and the last figure as the terminal figure of the last required number of ounces (thus: 020/1 or 100/5). Example: The ten figures 17816-70201 would translate, 17/18 inches, 16/17 yards, 20/21 ounces, also the ten figures 33449-01005 would translate 33/34 inches, 49/50 yards, 100/105 ounces. |

The Acme Multiplex Combinations provide for the cabling of sixteen variations in Articles, Assortments, Items, etc., in one word. Once understood it is the premier of Code Tables. It is simply a matter of

—ADDITION when sending

—SUBTRACTION when decoding

For example, you wish to transmit Item Numbers 3, 5, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12, and 16. This combination is found in Acme Multiplex Combination No. 3. The following is the method of operation:

| Multiplex No. | Translation |
|---------------|-------------|
| 8192 | Item No. 3 |
| 2048 | Item No. 5 |
| 1024 | Item No. 6 |
| 256 | Item No. 8 |
| 64 | Item No. 10 |
| 32 | Item No. 11 |
| 16 | Item No. 12 |
| 1 | Item No. 16 |
| 11633 | |

The introductory phrase to the above combination is zoche. The code word for transmitting the total, 11633, is cizeu, taken from Acme Commodity and Phrase Code.

To decode you always subtract the largest multiplex number possible from your total. The same procedure is followed on each remaining number until you have brought your total down to zero. Thus the above example would be decoded as follows:

| Total | Translation |
|--------------|--------------------|
| 11633 | |
| 8192 | Item No. 3 |
| 3441 | |
| 2048 | Item No. 5 |
| 1393 | |
| 1024 | Item No. 6 |
| 369 | |
| 256 | Item No. 8 |
| 113 | |

| 32 | Item No. 11 |
| 17 | |
| 16 | Item No. 12 |
| 1 | |
| 1 | Item No. 16 |
| 0 | |

After Acme Multiplex Combination Nos. 1 to 4 are thoroughly understood, any number of Multiplex Combinations may be made up to suit your particular requirements. Your introductory phrases can be arranged by using any of the blank code words immediately following zocif.

Example For Specification Tables "A" and "B"

| | | |
|-------|---|--------------------------------------|
| zyzoy | Disregard translation opposite next three half words and read the numbers to the left of these three half words from Specification Tables "A" and "B" | |
| 05014 | 05 | 5 M feet B/M |
| aribs | 014 | 1 x 7 inches, 8 to 24 feet (lengths) |
| 10022 | 10 | 10 M feet B/M |
| buowj | 022 | 1 x 9 inches, 8 to 24 feet |
| 14029 | 14 | 15 M feet B/M |
| diifk | 029 | 1 x 12 inches, 8 to 24 feet |

Specification Tables "A" and "B" are intended for cabling the details of specifications. When only two half words are desired you use code word zyzku, when only three half words are desired you use code word zyzoy, etc. When more than five half words are desired you use either zyzve or zyzzi.

This specification is very simple, you merely read the first two figures of each half word from Specification Table "A" and the next three from Specification Table "B." The operation of each succeeding half word is a repetition of the first half word.

"ACME SAFETY FIRST" THIRTEEN FIGURE CODE

0,000,000,000,000 to 1,299,999,999,999

This thirteen figure code has been incorporated to accommodate practically any private figure code and may be used in conjunction with the Acme Code by those who are familiar with the operation of figure codes.

This code should not be used until you are familiar with its operation and its application has been definitely agreed upon.

In order to assure your correspondent that a word has been transmitted correctly a "Check Figure" must be used which will be affixed as the last or 13th figure, this check figure is the terminal figure of the sum of the preceding twelve figures.

Example: 128359621715 when added in a single column gives a total of "50" and "0" being the terminal figure of the total it is therefore the "Check Figure" and added as the thirteenth figure to the right thus: 1283596217150 and is to be transposed into a code word as follows:

First you will note columns Number 1, 2, 3 and 4. These columns are for the purpose of obtaining the first three figures. The first three figures (128) in the above set of figures indicate that the remaining ten figures are to be read in groups of "two" figures each from columns 2, 4, 2, 2 and 1 respectively, viz:

| | | | | |
|----|----|----|----|----|
| 2 | 4 | 2 | 2 | 1 |
| 35 | 96 | 21 | 71 | 50 |
| AK | WM | EG | ET | NA |

Thus producing the ten letter code word Akwmegetna.

In decoding, the letters are separated into groups of "two" letters each, being careful to note from which column each group is taken, in order to obtain the first "three" figures, viz:

| | | | | |
|----|----|----|----|----|
| 2 | 4 | 2 | 2 | 1 |
| AK | WM | EG | ET | NA |

AK-WM-EG-ET-NA taken from columns 2, 4, 2, 2 and 1 respectively produces 35-96-21-71-50. 24221 taken from "Indicator Table" produces the first "three" figures "128" giving you a total of thirteen figures 1283596217150.

CAUTION—This check code is merely incorporated in this code for those that are familiar with the operation of figure codes. If you have an understanding of figure codes it can be used in many different ways, in conjunction with the Acme Code, but in no case should it be used until its application has been definitely agreed upon.

EXPLANATION

Code words made up by the use of the "Acme Ten-Figure Code" consist of five syllables; each syllable consists of two letters, viz: Code word ABENLATEIL would be divided into syllables as follows:

AB—1st syllable. EN—2d syllable. LA—3d syllable. TE—4th syllable. IL—5th syllable.

For the purpose of guarding against mutilations of code words in transmission of cables the syllables are reversed to designate the check as follows:

Take the above code word "ABENLATEIL"; after consulting your Decoding Table you find the above code word gives you the numeral 0051407042; these ten figures added together give the total of "23." Always use the terminal figure of your total as your check figure and designate same in the following manner:

If the terminal figure of your total is

1 reverse 1st syllable
2 " 2d "
3 " 3d "
4 " 4th "
5 " 5th "

If the terminal figure of your total is

6 reverse 1st, 2d and 3d syllables
7 " 1st, 2d " 4th "
8 " 1st, 2d " 5th "
9 " 1st, 3d " 4th "
0 " 1st, 4th " 5th "

EXAMPLES

00-51-40-70-42 total is 23, check figure is "3," therefore you are to reverse your 3d syllable as per instructions above and your code word in place of being ABENLATEIL would be ABENALTEIL.

01-51-40-70-42 total 24 check "4" correct code word is EBENLAETIL

03-51-40-70-42 " 26 " "6" " " " " " BONEALTEIL

42-00-01-02-75 " 21 " "1" " " " " " LIABEBIBAV

Please note that there is no particular regularity in the construction of the syllables as regards consonants or vowels; some begin with vowels and some begin with consonants. To reverse same you merely reverse their order, viz:

Syllable AB reversed would be BA
" OP " " " " PO

Syllable UR reversed would be RU
" DA " " " " AD, etc.

This code requires the mutilation of at least two letters to form an incorrect check: in other words this is a check code with at least two letters' difference between each word.
